Guy C. Fraker
Entrepreneur

Guy C. Fraker graduated in 1979 and received his Bachelor's Degree from the University of Wyoming and his Master's Degree from the University of Georgia.

Guy worked for State Farm from 1985-2012. During that time, he worked with California fire officers and state legislators to reduce fire fatalities among Oakland's economically challenged households. This earned Guy an Honorary Save by the National Association of Black Firefighters. In 2012, Guy launched an internet start-up company and a transportation tech focused consulting firm and is working on several patents. He has appeared on NPR and NBC as well as in FORBES and other magazines.
